Connie's Still Scowling

Pottstown Classified as Target Area

A deliberate, tardy Hurricane Connie continued early this morning to threaten the entire eastern seaboard, but sleeping Pottstonians were assured that the big storm would not arrive until sometime tomorrow.

But Pottstown remained a primary target area, of the growing storm, which idled at sea off the Carolinas coast most of yesterday.

And preparations were made throughout the area for anything the storm might offer.

Weather experts early this morning said that Connie is expected to follow a low pressure trough, extending northward from the Carolinas through Virginia, Maryland and Eastern Pennsylvania.

Matthew I. Peacock, Reading weather bureau, said the storm should pick up speed once it touches land.

Connie still sported winds in excess of 125 miles-per-hour early this morning.

A continued north-northwesterly movement of the big storm was predicted for the next few hours. Miami weather forecasters said the trend of the cold front, moving down the coast from Canada will determine the fate of the storm.

Highs to the southwest and northeast of the cold front's extremities may funnel Connie into the cold front, seeking the low-pressure trough which now extends south from Southeastern Pennsylvania, through Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina.

IF CONNIE should follow this low pressure avenue, it would repeat the performance of Hurricane Hazel, which steamrolled into Southeastern Pennsylvania this past October 15.

Hazel was the first hurricane to hammer this far inland in the past half century, and its destructive fury cost Pottstown area residents millions of dollars.

Fruit growers, still feeling the financial pinch of Hazel, are fearfully awaiting the course of Connie.

Connie's potential is considered as great as Hazel's destructive fury.

THE LEAST expected here, are stiff winds and heavy rains, which promise to break the six-week drought, which still causes a fire ban throughout the Pottstown area.

Yesterday dawned under gray skies, similar to the gray cover which hovered over the area, early on the morning of this past Oct. 15.

The skies seemed to portend the big storm, but by 10 o'clock (Continued on Page Eleven)

'Phone The Mercury For Hurricane News

What's new on Hurricane Connie?
The Mercury today will have up-to-the-minute reports on the big storm moving up the East coast as soon as they are compiled by the U.S. Weather bureau's office in Reading.
You can get information on the hurricane developments by phoning The Mercury, Pottstown 6000.

Local 'Connies' Aren't Wild as Windy Namesake

Pottstown area "Connies" aren't at all like their high-strung hurricane namesake.
They don't tear down chimneys, flatten homes, knock out windows, tear off roofs. And each claims that she doesn't have much of a temper and hardly ever flies off the handle.

Of course, they take a lot of good-natured kidding from their husbands, their friends and even their children. But the local Connies never get into a temper.

Most of the girls seem almost flattered that the weather bureau decided to use their names to label the season's third hurricane this year.

PETITE CONNIE Ottinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglass Ottinger, 60 Cedar street, commented that she was "kind of surprised" when she found out what the season's most raucous hurricane was named.

"Connie isn't a very common name. And I surely don't think they picked such a good name from the standpoint of my personality."

Miss Ottinger, an operator for Bell Telephone here, mused that as soon as she went to work yesterday, a supervisor mentioned something to her about Connie making a visit to Pottstown.

"I'm already here," Miss Ottinger rejoined.

LATER in the day, another operator wished her a "happy holiday," implying the connection between the hurricane and Miss Ottinger.

Mrs. Connie Chaplin Kenney, who resided at 248 Walnut street before moving to Reading when she married, ironically enough has been visiting her mother and friends in Pottstown this week.

"It'll probably be some hurricane if it's named after me," she grinned. "Of course, I've been taking a lot of kidding, but I still think it's nice to have (Continued on Page Eleven)

School Council to Hear Good's Request Today

Athletic Director Asks Board For Relief From Some Duties

EDWARD Y. GOOD

Edward Y. Good, director of athletics and physical education for Pottstown's school system, has asked to be relieved of some of that job's duties.

Reliable sources said yesterday that if the Athletic Council doesn't grant his request, Good will resign the post.

The council, made up of school board members and school administrators, will meet on the request today at 4 p. m. Good wrote a letter to the council asking for the "relief."

He's held the post since May, 1953, when the position was created.

Before that he was athletic director and head coach of baseball and basketball.

HE GETS $800 a year for the job, besides his salary as a teacher.

He is in line for a $50 raise this fall.

Good has mentioned to close friends that the duties of the job are a "pressure" on him.

Besides his teaching chores and his work as director of athletics, Good has also been working as a real estate salesman for Harry N. Daylor, 1150 High street.

Another reliable source said that Superintendent of Schools Harvard E. Fosnacht wasn't completely satisfied with the (Continued on Last Page)

'UNION BUSINESS' KEEPS OFFICIAL AWAY FROM JOB

Dasch Fails to Return, Although Suspension Is Over

The Firestone union official, suspended from his resin plant job for one week—until today—yesterday reported to the company that union business would prevent him from resuming work until Saturday.

Saturday is the date when 32 employees suspended for one week and 76 resin workers, who took off for "personal business," are scheduled to return to their jobs.

The suspended official, Charles Dasch, secretary of Firestone Local 336, United Rubber Workers (CIO), told the company he was sorry he couldn't return, but union affairs would keep him away until Saturday.

Dasch was suspended for one week this past Friday. The company reported that he was taking "too many" breaks from his job at the resin plant.

THIRTY-TWO resin employees left their jobs at 10 o'clock this past Saturday and the company, interpreting the walkout as a sympathy move for the union secretary, suspended the 32 for one week, until Saturday.

Claims $300 Is Part of Pay

Strange Balks At Salary Cut

Earl Strange, school teacher who resigned his job as head of the borough's Safety Patrol program Monday, thinks he should continue to get the $300 salary that goes with the post.

"That extra $300 was made part of my salary under an agreement with Superintendent Frank M. Haiston," Strange said yesterday. (Haiston preceded Dr. George M. McCormick.)

Strange said that teachers who get "extra" salaries for school jobs other than regular teaching receive those salaries in one lump sum at the end of the year.

The $300 he is paid is part of his regular paycheck, he said.

He said that the school district also deducts from his $300 such items as social security and retirement contributions.

"They don't do that in the cases of the other 'extra' salaries. All they take out of those is withholding taxes."

APPARENTLY THE school board and administrators feel differently about it, however.

A letter was mailed to Strange yesterday notifying him formally that his resignation as safety director which he submitted to the board the past Monday, had been accepted.

Linford Moyer, secretary of the district, said, "As far as we're concerned the $300 goes with the job. Since he has resigned the post, he automatically loses the $300 pay."

But Strange won't accept that decision.

YESTERDAY, HE threatened to take the case to the Department of Public Instruction in Harrisburg for a decision.

Strange's decision to resign the safety patrol post, which he has held since 1931, was reached after the school board the past Monday turned down a request for a $200 raise.

Strange has made regular requests for increases the past several years but each time the board turned them down.

Opinions Differ on Cost

Metered Area Gets First Water Bills

Water bills have been received in the past few days by borough residents who have had water meters installed in their homes.

So far it seems to be a toss-up as to whether or not the metered rates are higher or lower than the old flat rates.

A number of Pottstown meter users contacted yesterday gave varying opinions—some said their bill was twice as high under meters while others said it was lower.

Ralph H. Thomas, head of the borough water department, explained that billing times will be changed under the new system. The new periods will run from February, May, August and November.

"We want to get all the meters under the same billing system," he said.

METER RATES are 30 cents per thousand cubic feet for the first 5000 cubic feet used. Then the rates go down to 14½ cents per thousand cubic feet for the next 30,000 feet.

Samuel Barkley, Over 35,000 cubic feet, and the rate 512 Gay street, is 10 cents per thousand cubic feet.

A minimum rate of $5 for each three month period has been set for the standard one-household five-eighths of an inch meter.

Clarence E. Smith, 990 North Evans street, who just received his metered bill, complained that it was over double the amount he usually paid.

"If it continues at that rate, it would run a $100 a year," he said. "We ordinarily pay about $44 (Continued on Page Twenty-five)

2 Teachers Leave For English Posts

Thirty friends and relatives of two Pottstown school teachers, gathered at the Reading station yesterday morning to bid farewell to the England-bound pair.

Gloria Spatziani, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Spatziani, 426 King street and Julia Maier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Maier, Harmonyville road, will sail from New York City today for a year's stay in Europe.

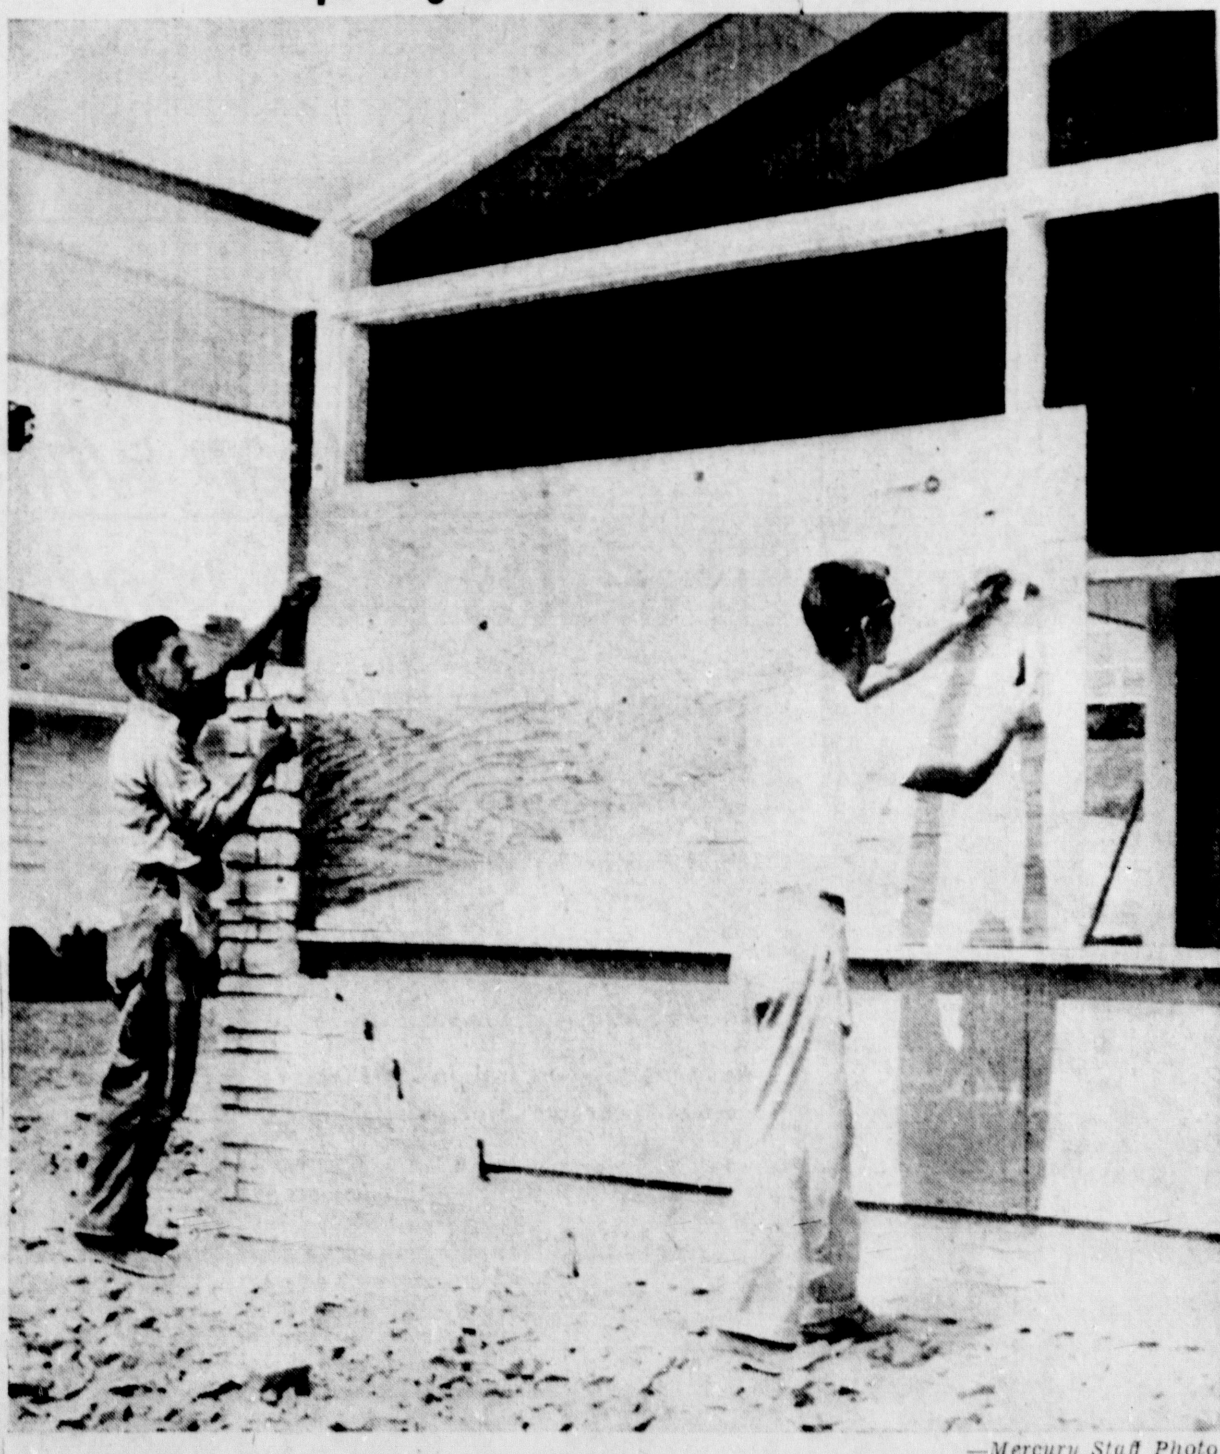

The women will teach in the First and Second grades at a United States Air Force base in England. They will return home next August.

During the past few weeks, friends of the two teachers gathered for several farewell parties. Last night in a New York City hotel, classmates from Immaculate college staged a party honoring Gloria Spatziani.

BOTH WILL travel to London, where for five days they will go through routine checks. As yet, they do not know in what part of the country they will teach.

Miss Spatziani taught this past year in the First grade of the Lincoln school. She is a graduate of (Continued on Last Page)

FARMERS PICK MARKET STALLS

New Facilities Please Lancaster County Men

A group of Lancaster county farmers visited Pottstown yesterday to select stalls for a new farmers market that will open within two weeks.

"The farmers were enthusiastic about the market facilities and the Pottstown trading area," asserted Nathan P. Hoffman, Pottstown rector promoting the market.

The new market will be situated at 132 High street in the Shuler House building.

"We hope to be open within two weeks with a full selection of Lancaster county farm products," Hoffman said. "We'll have everything—poultry, eggs, vegetables, meat, baked goods, candy, potato (Continued on Last Page)

Deer Drops Dead After Hitting Tree

A 70-pound deer dropped dead last night when it ran head on into an osage orange tree in a Douglassville area woods.

The deer, resting in the soft shadows of the woods, after it was wounded internally by an automobile, was frightened by a walking boy.

At the noise of the boy's feet, scuffling through the weeds, the young doe leaped to its feet, ran a few yards and crashed into the tree.

"But the deer died from hemorrhaging, not from crashing (Continued on Last Page)

Worker Burned In Oil Burner Blast

A 35-year-old Robinson Clay Products worker was burned seriously yesterday morning in the explosion of a kiln oil burner.

The man, Warren H. Johnson, of 13 Union alley, was filling the burner when oil left in the fuel lines exploded.

Johnson, a 10-year employee of the company, received first and second degree burns of his face, neck, chest and torso.

He was admitted to Pottstown hospital at 10:45 a. m.

WARREN STAUFFER, foreman at Robinson, said Johnson was standing near the oil burner which is used to heat the pipe glazing kilns.

"He was filling the burner which had to be started again after a power failure earlier in the morning," Stauffer said.

"That burner didn't work properly after it was relighted and he detached it from the kiln to refill it," he continued. "I guess some oil left in the fuel line exploded from the heat in the kiln."

Stauffer, the first man to the rescue, tore the burning clothing from Johnson. Soon several other workers ran over and succeeded in (Continued on Last Page)

THURSDAY, AUGUST 11, 1955

It is never too late with us, so long as we are aware of our faults and bear them impatiently.—Jacobi.

Stay Calm in Emergency!
YOUR best bet in this Hurricane Connie emergency is to remain calm. Don't be panicked by hearsay. Rely on official weather bureau reports which you can get by telephoning The Mercury.
Indications are that Pottstown may not be in the danger-zone. There may be "good blows" of 40 to 50-mile velocity, according to the weatherman, but these may not be too damaging.
The best place for you to weather a storm is right in your home in the Pottstown area. You will know if it's securely built, anchored safely to the foundation, and with a good roof. If it meets all those tests, you won't have to worry much.
It won't be necessary, said the weatherman yesterday, to board the windows.
But make sure you and your family will be all right in case of power failures. Have on hand food that requires no cooking. It won't go to waste. You can use it any time. If power failures result, you'll have no refrigeration!
Have a flashlight on hand. Make sure your garbage cans, porch furniture, sundeck equipment, window flower boxes, and so forth, are stored safely inside building. Loose objects blown around can cause a lot of damage.
In case of strong winds, open windows a bit on the leeward side (the side opposite the one facing the wind). In this way windows won't be blown out.
But remain calm! The Mercury will answer your telephoned inquiries about the progress of the storm. Use this service!

A Good Job on Weeds
POTTSTOWN borough authorities should be heartened by the citizen cooperation they received on the weed-cutting edict.
After the municipality showed it meant business by prosecuting two non-conformists, there was great activity in the weed-cutting field. A survey showed 17 property owners complied with the law during July. More will cut their weeds this month, it was predicted, rather than face $25 fines.

Persons afflicted with hay fever, invalids who suffer other pollen allergies, and those whose esthetic sense was irritated by the vast acreage of uncut milkweed, ragweed and Canadian thistle today praise the powers that be for taking a firm stand.
There have been many expressions of gratitude heard around town. We hope many of these persons called Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden to congratulate him on his fine work. Certainly many telephoned him to complain. Now let's reverse the thing!
It is heart-warming to see the borough take positive action. It is quite a change from the "do-nothing" attitude of previous administrations.
The man on the street in the long run will have more respect for the official who does an honest job than he will have for the foot-on-the-desk, "don't offend anybody," boot-licking procrastinator.
If only public officials would realize that they will command greater security by performing a good job. Certainly the public can't demand the dismissal of a public servant who does an honest job.
It's the non-producer whose job is insecure! When will he learn that?

Record Home Ownership
SOME of the alarms heard around us might lead to the belief that the American home is a vanishing institution.
But according to the United States Savings and Loan League, a record 57 percent of non-farm dwellings are now owned by the occupants. In many cases, of course, the equity is thin.
The ownership figure has grown from 41 percent in 1940, and from 37 percent in 1900.
The pattern is not uniform throughout the country. In Chicago, only 41.8 percent of units are owned by occupants. New York City has only 31.7 percent, but many smaller cities have higher than the national average of home owners.

In Pottstown, for instance, Assessor Horace Y. Seidel estimates 80 to 90 percent of the residential dwellings are home owned. This is a high rate, but he points out that the days of the big landlords have passed, that outside of the apartments almost all homes are privately owned.
Home ownership has long been synonymous with stability and good citizenship. It seems quite possible that the current figures indicating growing disrespect for law and morals are actually reflecting more accurate statistics, rather than more lawlessness.

Grampaw Oakley
PUNKIN CORNERS, August 10, Dear Sir 'n' Brother:
Wal, I see by The Mercury where Pottstown and area have been out on the alert for brash Hurricane Connie. Why, you'd think a windstorm with such a nice, feminine name would be shy and retiring!
Goofy advice comes from a Philadelphia medico who says it's good for health to talk back to the boss. He should talk! He doesn't have any. Boss, that is!
And say: A California hen laid 28 eggs in a week. That's what comes of August. She must be planning to take a vacation!
Hopin' you air the same.
GRAMPAW NED OAKLEY

READERS SAY:
No Dog Lover, She Wants All Strays Picked Up
The name and complete address of the author must accompany every contribution but on request will not be published. Letters not exceeding 250 words will receive preference.

Prefers Children
To the Editor: I presume that the borough law classifies as a stray dog one that is running loose, no matter how long.
Then, I propose that the dog catcher be assigned to pick up every single animal that is turned loose from the house, no matter for how short a time, and either put it to death or give it to someone who won't let it roam over other people's property.
Just because some of the people who live in my neighborhood love dogs, I am supposed to love them, too. Well, I don't. In fact I hate them.
Dog lovers and dog haters don't get along, I know. I can live with the dog lovers, but not with their dogs. That seems to me a privilege which should not be denied anyone—to pick his own friends, that is.
My friends happen to be about half a dozen neighbor children who come to my yard almost every day to play. Sometimes I feed them milk and cookies for lunch and they stay most of the day.
Somehow the children attract the dogs. And the dogs not only mess up the yard but, in this hot weather, at any moment may bite one of the children.
So for the protection of these children, my yard and myself, will the dog catcher please pick up all the stray animals and get rid of them quick. If not, I may have to use other methods.
Pottstown MRS. B. R.

Dangerous Young Drivers
To the Editor: Why do parents buy their children automobiles or permit them to buy cars themselves? They are clearly out of their mind or just don't care a bit about what happens to them.
Take a glance over the front page of your paper today (Aug. 8). An elderly man was critically injured by a car driven by a 16-year-old boy.
Only by a miracle, four other teenagers escaped death when their convertible flipped over. The driver was 18 years old.
I don't accuse either of these drivers as negligent. But the large number of teen-age drivers involved in accidents indicates something is wrong.
Again, as in any other trouble a boy or girl might become involved in, the parents should be called to task.
Why, I know a boy who has just turned 16 and already has his own automobile. Who bought it for him? His parents, of course. And he already is getting it "souped up" so it can race along the road and perhaps, some day, kill or permanently cripple someone.
How about our laws, too? There must be something wrong with them when this terrible tragedy of youth is permitted to continue. With all the so-called traffic experts, there seems to be no answer.
We are talking about rockets and other story-book types of travel, yet we can't control the driving of automobiles, which have been with us 40 years or more.

Let's slow down. It looks as if we're getting ahead of ourselves.
Pottstown RD 3 C. R.

Gang on the Roam
To the Editor: If police want to stop some of this juvenile vandalism before it happens, they should take a tour around the North End of town some night around 11 o'clock.
The gang of teen-agers that roams through the streets at that time is easily spotted. One wonders what they are doing out at that time of night. The police should wonder, too.
Pottstown ANNA

Why Was Case Dropped?
To the Editor: Why were the charges dropped against the five teen-age boys for breaking in and damaging property? Why?
The owners were for the stiffest possible penalties and then changed their minds. Why did they?
This case had been a mystery for a while as to what to do about it while the parents of at least one boy hoped it would be forgotten by the public.
I hope the parents of the boys and girls who have had trouble will keep this in mind—especially those from "the wrong side of the tracks."

Water Power Needed For National Defense
By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON, August 11 — More than $5 billions worth of water power urgently needed for national defense and industrial expansion has gone to waste because of Congressional dillydallying over this problem, although President Eisenhower and his two predecessors must share part of the responsibility.
It is estimated that the over-all loss from politically stalemated projects that amounts to $1 billion annually, and it can never be reclaimed.
The major responsibility falls upon extremists on both sides of the 20-year-old controversy over public or private development of these vast untapped resources. Willfully and deliberately, according to the record, they have preferred to preserve a political issues for future campaigns rather than solve a great national problem.
The quarrel over the Dixon-Yates TVA-AEC contract has given the most dramatic illustration of this economic absurdity. But the loss involved in this two-year-old controversy is only peanuts by comparison with the wastefulness on several others more important but delayed developments.
STAGGERING LOSSES: The treaty with Canada for joint development of hydroelectricity at Niagara Falls, for instance, was signed in 1950.
Canada immediately began construction of facilities that will soon generate $60,000,000 worth of power annually, plus the share allocated to the United States when we are ready to use it.
Engineers estimate that our loss on this single undertaking is $60,000,000 a year, which means a waste of many millions already. Even if we could begin to build now, there would be five more years before completion, or a total loss of $300,000,000.
Nor does this figure include revenue that would have accrued from establishment of new industries, workers' pay envelopes, taxes and all the other economic benefits based on a new and vast utility system.
POLITICO-ECONOMIC TILTING: The pattern of politico-economic tilting at partisan windmills with respect to Niagara Falls conforms to that in all the other water-power disputes.
They involve needless delay in construction of dams and generating facilities at TVA in Tennessee, Hell's Canyon in Idaho, the John Day Dam in Washington, and the Fryingpan and Upper Colorado Basin developments in Colorado. There are also many other smaller works.
The Congressional heirs of the Roosevelt-Truman-Ickes faction demand that Uncle Sam build, own and operate these proposed projects along the lines of TVA.
Advocates of private enterprise insist that they be financed and developed by the utility companies. Their forces are so equally matched in Capitol Hill that all rival bills are stymied in committee or in differences between House and Senate.
IKE INCONSISTENT: President Eisenhower tried to break the deadlock with his "partnership" idea, although he has not been completely consistent. He departed from that path when he declared in favor of Federal development of the two Colorado projects.
Despite political pressure from both sides, or perhaps because of these powerful and conflicting interests, Ike has not yet formulated a definite program for cutting this Gordian knot. He must share some responsibility for this continuing waste of national resources.

The major responsibility falls upon extremists on both sides of the 20-year-old controversy over public or private development of these vast untapped resources. Willfully and deliberately, according to the record, they have preferred to preserve a political issues for future campaigns rather than solve a great national problem.
The quarrel over the Dixon-Yates TVA-AEC contract has given the most dramatic illustration of this economic absurdity. But the loss involved in this two-year-old controversy is only peanuts by comparison with the wastefulness on several others more important but delayed developments.
STAGGERING LOSSES: The treaty with Canada for joint development of hydroelectricity at Niagara Falls, for instance, was signed in 1950.
Canada immediately began construction of facilities that will soon generate $60,000,000 worth of power annually, plus the share allocated to the United States when we are ready to use it.
Engineers estimate that our loss on this single undertaking is $60,000,000 a year, which means a waste of many millions already. Even if we could begin to build now, there would be five more years before completion, or a total loss of $300,000,000.
Nor does this figure include revenue that would have accrued from establishment of new industries, workers' pay envelopes, taxes and all the other economic benefits based on a new and vast utility system.
POLITICO-ECONOMIC TILTING: The pattern of politico-economic tilting at partisan windmills with respect to Niagara Falls conforms to that in all the other water-power disputes.
They involve needless delay in construction of dams and generating facilities at TVA in Tennessee, Hell's Canyon in Idaho, the John Day Dam in Washington, and the Fryingpan and Upper Colorado Basin developments in Colorado. There are also many other smaller works.
The Congressional heirs of the Roosevelt-Truman-Ickes faction demand that Uncle Sam build, own and operate these proposed projects along the lines of TVA.
Advocates of private enterprise insist that they be financed and developed by the utility companies. Their forces are so equally matched in Capitol Hill that all rival bills are stymied in committee or in differences between House and Senate.
IKE INCONSISTENT: President Eisenhower tried to break the deadlock with his "partnership" idea, although he has not been completely consistent. He departed from that path when he declared in favor of Federal development of the two Colorado projects.
Despite political pressure from both sides, or perhaps because of these powerful and conflicting interests, Ike has not yet formulated a definite program for cutting this Gordian knot. He must share some responsibility for this continuing waste of national resources.

RED HILL—Mrs. Calvin Reed, corr. Phone Pennsburg 2304, Dale Miller, del. Phone Pennsburg 4673.

The regular meeting of the Valley Grange was held on Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. at the Grange Hall on Sixth street. The theme for the evening was "Stunt Night." Humorous readings, songs, games and stunts were held throughout the program.

Faye Bardman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bardman, Main street, was elected president of the Luther League of St. Paul's church recently at a meeting held at the home of June DeFranco. Other officers elected were Neil Kurz, vice president; Nancy Schwenk, secretary; and Joel Gebert, treasurer.

Pottstown Portraits

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By NORMAN B. REED

Not all firemen are the kind who snatch beautiful women from roaring infernos and carry them safely down a ladder just before the building collapses.

Some of them, like Charles B. Wolfgang, 170 Moser road, are busy during the fire protecting life and property in the area.

Wolfgang is one of Pottstown's fire police. During his 16 years service he was president of the Pottstown Fire Police association for 12 years. He serves as captain now.

"I had to resign as president the past year because of my health," he explained. "With my regular job and my other work it was getting to be too much."

Charles B. Wolfgang

WHAT ARE the duties of a fire policeman, anyway?

"Besides directing traffic," Wolfgang explained, "we make sure motorists don't drive over the firehoses. We also keep onlookers at a safe distance from the fire and away from the fire engines."

Fire police are available for parades and other civic affairs, and they serve without pay at all times, the captain pointed out.

Wolfgang wears a resplendent, gold-trimmed black uniform when he has time to put it on.

"When there's a fire, though," he said, "I just wear a white cap and gold badge, and I carry boots and a raincoat in my car at all times."

FROM 1942 UNTIL 1952, Wolfgang was a member of the regular police force of Pottstown. He served as desk sergeant, motor patrolman and foot patrolman.

"That was in addition to my regular job at the Bethlehem Steel company plant," he explained. "When I started with the police force they were glad to get anybody—the regular men were away in the Army or Navy."

Wolfgang has been a drill press operator at the local steel plant for 20 years. In 1936 he worked on parts for San Francisco's Golden Gate bridge.

Since he left the police force, the energetic Wolfgang has bought a tractor and gone into the cultivating, mowing and snowplowing business in spare time.

"CUTTING WEEDS is the toughest job in that line," he commented. "I get hay fever from the goldenrod, for one thing, and I broke 61 mowing machine blades this year on old scrap iron, wire and tin cans hidden under the weeds."

The mowing contractor is also handy with a hammer, saw and trowel. He did much of the work on his new six-room home, although he was laid low by his heart condition when it was finished.

Wolfgang is married to the former Bertha A. Wengert (a native of Pottstown) and the couple has a new son, Larry K., born the past July 26 in Memorial hospital.

THEY ALSO have a daughter, Doris, 25; another daughter, Bertha, 22, and three other sons, Charles W., 20; Edward J., 15, and David, 12. The 52-year-old father is a native of New Berlinville, and the son of William and Sally Wolfgang, who now live at 508 Spruce street.

He attended Congo and Mock's one-room schools, and later moved to Linfield. After he was married he and his wife lived on Mt. Vernon street until they built a home on Moser road.

Wolfgang received a gold watch when he retired as president of the fire police association the past year. It was presented by the fire police of District 7, which includes Upper Pottsgrove, Gilbertsville, Sanatoga, and the West End company as well as Pottstown.

The former president is a member of the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company (which he joined in 1937), the Montgomery County Volunteer Fire Police association, the Keystone Fire company of Boyertown, the Gilbertsville Fire company, the Linfield Fire company, the North End Fire company (charter member), the Orioles, the Fraternal Order of Eagles and the Eagles Home association, Emmanuel Lutheran church, and the Civil Defense volunteers.

Pennsburg Playground Holds Program

Five hundred and fourteen children and Melany Derr. attended the playground activities last week. The big feature of the week was a dress-up show.

Winners were: Lucille Ritz and Eleanor Young, dressed as fairies and classed as the cutest pair. Most original was Darlene Young with a home made Hawaiian suit. Most sophisticated costume was worn by Phyllis Fluck, the prettiest by Jean Ann Derr, and the best get-up, by Mary Eck, who used curtains and bedspreads for her costume.

Miss Nizzio, director of the Pennsburg playground, introduced two new crafts, which were the making of gimp earrings, and felt belts. Other crafts continued were leather work, plaster of paris molds, and puppets made of paper mache.

These puppets are to be used to put on a skit entitled "Danny day evening service a campfire Beaver's Secret." The puppeteers service will be held at the home are: Lucille Gerhart, Charlette of Paul Barshinger. Refreshments Essig, Carl Essig, Dennis Moyer, will be served.

THE SKIT will be presented at Family Night, to be held Friday, Aug. 19, in the high school auditorium, East Greenville. Other attractions at this event will be a display of the projects of the five playgrounds, also square dancing, majorette drill teams, doll show and band concert, consisting of pupils of the five playgrounds, under the direction of Mr. Marshman.

The "Voice of the Hills" of Fairmount, W. Va., are continuing with their meetings at the Perkiomen Youth center, between Green Lane and Sumneytown, which began Aug. 8 and will continue through Aug. 14. Richard Bennington, Mrs. Sessions and the Arnold sisters take part in the special music.

Immediately following the Saturday evening service a campfire Beaver's Secret." The puppeteers service will be held at the home are: Lucille Gerhart, Charlette of Paul Barshinger. Refreshments Essig, Carl Essig, Dennis Moyer, will be served.

Obeying Do's and Don'ts of Authorities During Hurricanes May Save Your Life

Here are some valuable tips on how to best weather a hurricane if it should strike, outlined by D. E. Story, chairman of the Northern branch of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Red Cross.

'CONNIES' —

something named after you." In a more serious vein, however, she added that she was worried what her hurricane "sister" might do to her recently-completed home in Pottsville, near Reading, if the storm reaches this area.

MOST CONNIES get their nicknames from being christened Constance. An exception to this rule is Mrs. Arveda Bushey, 1426 Sunset drive, whom everyone has called "Connie" for years.

The nickname came about through Mrs. Bushey's maiden name being Conway. "I really haven't been kidded much except that my daughter, six-year-old Barbara, says, 'The hurricane's the same as you,'" Mrs. Bushey reflected. "But she also says, 'There ought to be one named for Daddy, too.'"

ELEVEN-YEAR-old Connie Moyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Moyer, Ninth avenue and Walker road, Collegeville, almost likes her connection with the current storm.

"She sort of enjoyed Hurricane Hazel last October," Connie's mother said. "She stood out on the front porch with us and watched the storm throw chairs around in the backyard."

"All day long, that's all I've heard," laughed Connie Smith, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Smith, Sanatoga road.

"I never get riled, though," she laughed. "I figure a lot of the other girls took a lot of kidding when the hurricanes had their names, so I guess this is just my turn."

WHEN MRS. Connie Kramer, of Sunset road, Limerick, came out to Franklin field annex to watch a softball game last night, someone told her they thought she was in North Carolina. Appropriately enough Mrs. Kramer has a four-year-old daughter named Gayle.

This year will be the second straight that the John M. McClure family, of Royersford RD 3, has had a "personal" hurricane.

The past year, it was Hurricane Carol for daughter Carol Ann, who's now 19 months old. This year it's Mrs. McClure—Connie.

"I wonder where they get their names from," Mrs. McClure puzzled.

HURRICANE —

the sun broke through the spreading gray clouds. It remained bright until mid-afternoon when the curtain of clouds returned.

A sprinkle of rain touched the borough at 7 o'clock last night. But the streets remained dry throughout the night.

THE SOUTHEASTERN Pennsylvania chapter of Red Cross and the Northern Branch Red Cross, headquarters in Pottstown, are ready for any emergency.

Edward F. O'Neill, Northern Branch disaster chairman, said his disaster staff can be alerted in an hour's notice.

He said Red Cross officials are watching closely the movements of Connie.

Delaine E. Story, chairman of the Northern Branch, cautioned all residents to remain calm.

He pointed out that citizens should have a supply of candles and lamps, since hurricane winds might knock out electric power.

COUNTRY RESIDENTS who rely on electric pumps should make sure they have an adequate supply of water.

In the past the Northern Branch has designated the facilities of the YMCA and The Hill school for emergency use.

H. F. Keisker, manager of the Southeastern Pennsylvania chapter, reported disaster chiefs of the Red Cross are moving northward along the coast in front of the storm.

Disaster stations have been set up at Cape May, Bridgeton, Atlantic City, Toms River and Red Bank on the Jersey Coast.

In case of an emergency, Pottsville can call the Red Cross at 3055.

FRANCIS C. Llewellyn, Pottstown area superintendent for the Philadelphia Electric company, reported, "We've stored equipment and will have crews ready if the storm hits here."

The Bell Telephone company is braced for the effects of the storm. The Pottstown Salvation Army will be ready for any emergency.

Staffs of both hospitals were put on the alert and notified that if the hurricane should hit they might be placed on an extra-time standby basis.

LeRoy H. Doerrman, business manager of Pottstown hospital, said supplies such as bandages and syringes had been checked to make sure an adequate supply was on hand.

"We have alerted the present personnel," he added. "And if worse comes to worse, we'll be able to open up two extra floors in the old hospital building at short notice."

POTTSTOWN hospital maintenance men also have been advised to fasten down any loose outside objects.

Albert P. Pollick, administrator of Memorial hospital, said auxiliary personnel had been alerted.

"We've also checked our emergency lighting and power units, in case the storm hits here real hard," he said.

At the Municipal airport, all flights have been grounded until the danger of ferocious Connie has died out.

JOHN BASCO, manager, also said the large 40-foot aluminum hangar doors had been tied down. "They got banged around last October in Hurricane Hazel, and we don't want it to happen again," he said. "All planes have been put inside the hangar, too. We flew one plane that we didn't have room for to the Limerick airport."

Several of the borough's factories also are taking storm precautions.

Milton I. Eshbach, personnel manager of Bethlehem Steel, said ventilators of the giant plant had been closed and maintenance crews alerted.

"WE'RE CLOSING following the weather reports," he said yesterday afternoon, "and tying down any outside equipment that might be in danger."

Eshbach said the large steel bars in the Bethlehem yard are too heavy to be moved by the hurricane wind.

Workers at Spicer's have made sure that everything is fastened down in the outside yard.

George Cockfair, general manager of Flagg's, said, yesterday, "We won't do anything until further warnings, except shut the windows tonight."

Meanwhile, borough residents were busy late yesterday afternoon and last night tying down television aerials and removing lawn chairs and garden ornaments.

SEVERAL POTTSTOWN builders, in the process of constructing new homes, took precautions for recently-installed picture windows or unglazed windows.

Allen K. Davidheiser Sr. had workers install plasterboard over windows of a new home he is building on Master street as well as other new houses in the North End.

Dominic DeAngelo, Stowe builder, also battened down the "hatches" of some homes he is constructing on Spruce street between East and West streets.

The mercury climbed to a high of 78 late yesterday afternoon. A

New Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks

Seven new "high-voltage" high-compression valve-in-head engines!

Here's hour-saving, dollar-saving power for your job... the biggest choice of engines in Chevrolet truck history! And they're the most modern engines in the industry!

You've got it good under the hood with a new Chevrolet Task-Force truck! With two new V8's and five new sixes to choose from, you can pick the power that's tailor-made to do your kind of hauling.

Shortest stroke V8's in any leading truck! Both of Chevrolet's new truck V8's have an ultra-short stroke—shortest of any V8 in any leading truck. They're of modern oversquare design, which means that the piston stroke is smaller than the bore. The result is less piston travel per mile... longer engine life. Also, Chevrolet's compact truck V8's deliver exceptionally high horsepower per pound of engine weight. More power is actually available for hauling your loads!

Modern 12-volt electrical system! You get this great development in all new Chevrolet truck engines—both V8's and sixes. The 12-volt electrical system delivers twice the punch for quicker cold-weather starting (up to 30% faster cranking speed). It also provides a hotter, fatter spark for better ignition.

Come in and command the most modern truck power for your job!

Year after year... America's best-selling truck! CHEVROLET

So, too, was he pleased with the number of Newberg residents on hand to greet him on this occasion, his 81st birthday. Some of them knew him in his childhood.

GAME BIRDS RELEASED BY ROD, GUN CLUB

EAST GREENVILLE — Victor Stahl, Tel. Pottstown 7264, Lester M. Miller, Del. Tel. Pottstown 7467.

A pheasant raising project, sponsored by the Rod and Gun Protective association of East Greenville, as part of the State-wide day-old pheasant raising program, reached a successful climax on Monday when 232 12-week-old birds were released by the field sportsmen in the upper Perkiomen area.

On May 15, a shipment of 250 day-old chicks was received from the State Game Farm, Schwenksville, and placed in the care of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brewer, Green Lane. The Brewer's were reimbursed for the care by the local rod and gun club to the amount of $1.50 per bird to bring them to the 12-week age, ready for release.

Extremely good facilities and careful watch enabled the Brewer's to raise 92 percent, considered a record in Montgomery Berks area supervised by William Shaver, Mainland, game protector. Approximately 60 percent of the pheasants raised are cockbirds.

The release of the pheasants was effected on Monday in various parts of Upper Hanover township, north of Route 663 and east of Niantic road. Members of the East Greenville club participating in addition to president Roger W. Lachman, were Russell Brewer, Irwin Yerger, Fred Binder, William Schult, Paul Krauss and Harold Gilbert.

Connie Drifts Toward Coastline; Tornado Whips Carolina States

HATTERAS, N.C., Aug. 10 (AP)—Hurricane Connie, a mighty threat to the Carolina coast and the rest of the Eastern seaboard, drifted just offshore tonight.

A late weather bureau bulletin placed the center of the big tropical storm as 190 miles southeast of Myrtle Beach, S.C., the vacation spot where last year's destructive Hazel came ashore. The storm was moving at only six miles an hour or less toward Myrtle Beach.

The latest weather bulletin said highest winds were estimated at 120 miles an hour. This was a drop of 15 miles from the peak estimates on Connie, but small consolation to persons likely to be in the path of the big blow. Anything over 75 miles an hour is considered a hurricane.

Highest coastal winds were placed at 35 miles an hour with gusts to 40 miles. Little change is expected for the next six hours, the bureau said.

HUGE WAVES pounded the beaches and tides were two to four feet above normal all the way from Charleston, S.C., to the Virginia capes.

Gales extend out from the hurricane center from 150 to 200 miles.

"Since the final destination of the hurricane is not yet known and since its proximity to the coastline makes it a definite threat to the coast once it starts accelerating in forward movement," the weather bureau said, "all interests from Jacksonville northward to Cape Ann, Mass., should remain on the alert for later advice."

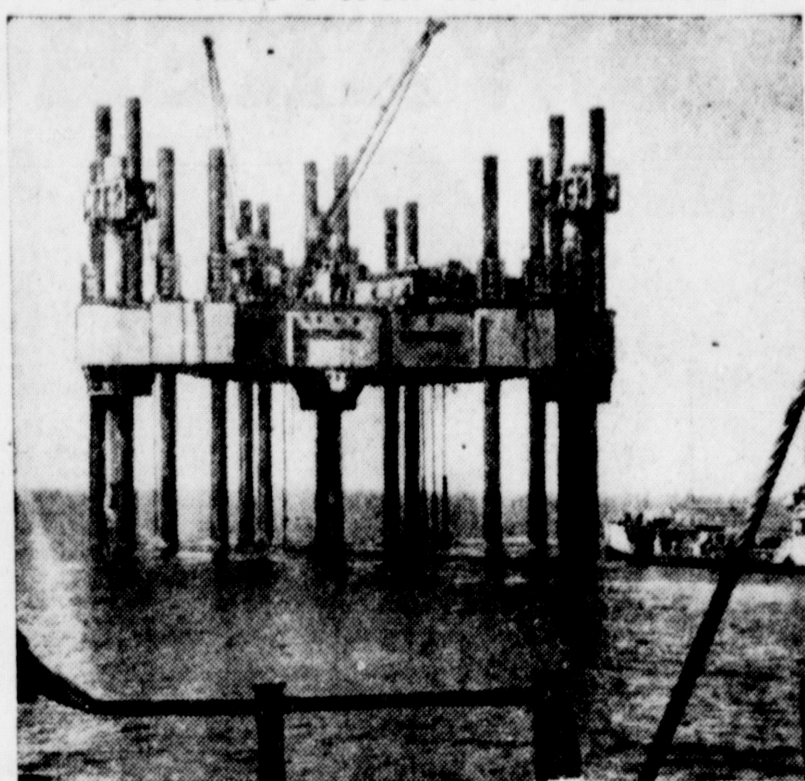

While Connie threatened the coast, a tornado whipped through eastern South Carolina and North Carolina destroying an undetermined number of small buildings and injuring at least six persons.

FOUR PERSONS were reported hospitalized at Conway, S.C., only 14 miles inland from Connie-threatened Myrtle Beach.

The twister skipped through the rich tobacco farm areas of the two states dropping down periodically to scatter debris in its wake.

In its last hurricane advisory, the weather bureau said a low pressure trough was moving in from the Great Lakes region and this might cause Connie to veer to the north and pick up speed.

Hurricane Perch for Workmen

Forty-three workmen were evacuated last night from this "Texas Tower" radar station 100 miles at sea off Cape Cod. Despite warnings of approaching Hurricane Connie, 60 others volunteered to stay at the station. The bottom of the platform is 62 feet above water. Thirty-five to 40 foot seas are forecast for the area tomorrow.

AEC Awards Contract

U. S. Acts to Put A-Power Into Smaller Submarines

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Government took the first step today to put atomic power into small submarines.

Acting chairman John von Neumann of the Atomic Energy commission (AEC) said a contract has been awarded to Combustion Engineering incorporated, for the design and development of a reactor suitable for a "small" submarine.

AEC's announcement said the project "is based on a department of defense requirement for the development of a nuclear powered small submarine."

How small wasn't indicated, but earlier this year the Navy revealed interest in building atomic-

60 TO SIT OUT CONNIE ABOARD TOWER AT SEA

BOSTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Sixty workmen elected today to remain aboard a "Texas Tower" radar station 100 miles at sea off Cape Cod despite a Navy warning that the approach of Hurricane Connie might make it impossible to take them off later.

Forty-three others were evacuated by the Coast Guard cutter McCulloch and are expected to reach Castle Island in Boston harbor early tomorrow.

H. C. Duncan, project engineer for the contractors setting the ten-million dollar structure in place, said the men made the choice themselves.

"We don't think there is any danger," Duncan said, "or we would evacuate all the men—those 60 lives are as valuable as the 43 men who were evacuated."

"THE ONLY danger," he added, would be if green seas should hit it. It doesn't look as if that would happen.

The Coast Guard explained that green seas are those which pour over an object in a solid mass, rather than spraying it.

Navy weather advisories forecast seas of 35 to 40 feet for the area tomorrow.

Duncan said all three supporting "legs" on which the big structure will stand are in place, driven 50 feet into the ocean bed. In addition, temporary legs, which held the tower while main supports were installed, still stand, imbedded ten feet in the ocean floor.

The workmen who left the tower were carried off in a large bucket—lowered by a crane mounted on the platform—to the deck of the Coast Guard cutter.

Those who elected to stay were fully aware that such an operation would be out of the question in 35-foot seas, Duncan said.

House Unit Opens Query On Public Information

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—A House subcommittee started questioning government agencies today to see if they are being "arbitrary and capricious" in deciding what the public should be told of their activities.

The survey grew from charges inside congress and out that federal officials are holding back legitimate news.

Chairman Dawson (D-Ill.) of the House government operations committee announced in June the study would be undertaken.

Rep. Moss (D-Calif.) heads the operations subcommittee which today sent out 5½-page questionnaires to each executive and independent agency.

Wayne Brown and Dist. Atty. Vernon Stoll of Nevada county, declared they did not plan to investigate the possibility of bigamy charges against the woman.

"We don't have enough money to go trailing all over Mexico or the United States to find out if the second marriage occurred," Stoll declared.

Una, her father and Harold Berliner, Jr., the attorney she has hired to help her, all refused to say what arrangements were made for Una to meet Schmidt.

Fine, in the meantime, lost his job driving a tractor at a timber operation near here and reportedly was trying to find work elsewhere.

Berliner advised Una to live apart from Fine until Schmidt arrives and the complex triangle can be discussed by all concerned.

Charged in Biggest Cash Bank Holdup

FBI Nabs 2 in Robbery

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP)—Two men were seized by the FBI today on charges of being members of a four-man gang that staged history's biggest cash bank robbery—the April 6 precision $305,000 holdup of a Chase Manhattan branch.

The FBI issued warrants for two other men, including a murderer who was a suspect almost from the outset.

Also taken into custody in the spectacular break in the case was a man described as a material witness.

Those arrested and charged with violating the national bank robbery act were James McCoo, 36, and Frank Cocchiaro, 34, who live in Astoria, Queens, not far from the Woodside, Queens, holdup scene. The area is about five miles from midtown Manhattan.

COCCHIARO, THE FBI said, is the husband of a woman teller who worked in the branch bank at the time of the holdup. She since has resigned.

The material witness is Vincent W. Kritil, 28, of Fire Island, N. Y.

With warrants at hand, the FBI redoubled its nationwide search for Redmond (Ninny) Cribbins, 48, alias Mike Malloy, and Thomas (Duke) Connelly Jr., 30.

A bank employee picked Cribbins' picture from among 200 rogue's gallery photographs the day after the bank robbery and Cribbins since has been sought for questioning.

A HUSKY 5 feet, 8 inches, the gray-haired Cribbins got out of Sing Sing prison on parole in 1948 after serving 16 years for second degree murder.

Connelly is a steamfitter with a long prison record. New York police wanted him for questioning but gave no clue that they suspected he was a member of the bank robbery gang.

Connelly dropped from sight about the time of the holdup. His wife, Ann, and their two children, George, 2, and Veronica, 3, disappeared about ten days later.

Late last month, the two Connelly children were found abandoned—the girl in a Baltimore dime store, the little boy in a Wilmington, Del., church 70 miles away.

The Chase Manhattan holdup appeared a classic of precision timing in its execution.

POLIO OUTBREAK IN NEW ENGLAND AT 1323 CASES

BOSTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—New England's polio outbreak continued to spread today as the six-state case total mounted to 1323 cases. Only 249 were listed in the area on this date a year ago.

Massachusetts, where 112 new cases were reported today as against 88 yesterday, accounts for 1038 of the New England cases, and hard-hit Boston has had 370, almost one-third of the State's 1955 total.

Thirty-one Salk vaccine-inoculated youngsters have been stricken in New England this year.

THE LATEST death was that of a ten-year-old New York city boy who was stricken at a Lenox camp in the Berkshire hills of western Massachusetts.

Dr. Roy F. Feemster, director of the Massachusetts health department's division of communicable diseases, said polio is "taking hold" in communities adjacent to Boston, and has spread more than 50 miles to the northwest.

"I have been saying that we should be on the floor of an epidemic when we reached 1000 cases," Dr. Feemster said.

Secretary Cites Restraint

Dulles Says 'Patience' To Anti-Red Koreans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles told embattled South Korea today the way to national unification lies in patience—not violence inviting nuclear war which might leave only insects to inherit the country.

Dulles' comments, based on rioting in South Korea against the half-Communist truce inspection team, came during a half hour news conference devoted almost entirely to Far East questions.

Newsman took notes as Dulles—who only a few months ago talked of "massive retaliation" and of "weapons of precision"—sought to throw oil on a variety of troubled waters.

To the Republic of Korea he counseled patience and non-violence. As an example, he held up United States restraint for the past year in eventually successful efforts to free 15 American airmen from Red China prisons.

TO FRANCE, Dulles seemed to be suggesting a way out of bitter Nationalist uprisings in North Africa when he applauded an agreement negotiated between France and Tunisia.

As if recommending it as a solution to violence in Morocco, he said the French-Tunisian accord showed "determination, realism and goodwill."

Of the U. S.-Red China talks at Geneva, Dulles held pretty close to the policy of secrecy which he has imposed.

However, he did say he saw no Red Chinese attempt to broaden the scope of the meeting beyond the limits laid down July 30 in a speech at Peiping by Red China's Premier Chou En-lai.

Leader Squelches Idea Of Continuing Sales Tax

CHICAGO, Aug. 10 (AP)—Governor Leader today cast aside Republican suggestions for continuation of the State sales tax as a basis for solving the State's need for more tax money.

The Governor, landing here after a three-hour flight from Harrisburg said he "would no more accept a sales tax as a way to balance the budget than the Republicans are prepared to accept my classified income tax."

Telegram Sent on Schmidt's Capture Una Mum on Second Marriage

NEVADA CITY, Calif., Aug. 10 (AP)—The father of Mrs. Una Schmidt-Fine was at her side today to offer advice in solving the marital mixup resulting from her marriage to a logger while her airman husband was in a Chinese Communist prison.

Ralph Howell of Brueneau, Idaho, and Una's stepmother joined her at her High Sierra hide-away Tuesday night.

Howell's only comment was that he knew both husbands and "they are both nice young fellows."

The 20-year-old, auburn-haired Una said she married logger Alford Fine, 21, last September in the belief that her first husband, Airman Daniel C. Schmidt, 22, was dead.

SCHMIDT is one of 11 American airmen recently released by the Chinese Reds. They are due back in the U. S. Friday at Travis Air Force base near San Francisco.

Una, who has a 2½-year-old son by Schmidt, said she did not learn definitely he was a war prisoner until November, 1954, which was two months after she became Fine's wife.

However, she said she received a message from the Red Cross in June, 1954, saying Schmidt possibly was a prisoner.

In Washington, the Air Force said the woman drew Air Force allotment checks regularly at least through July 31.

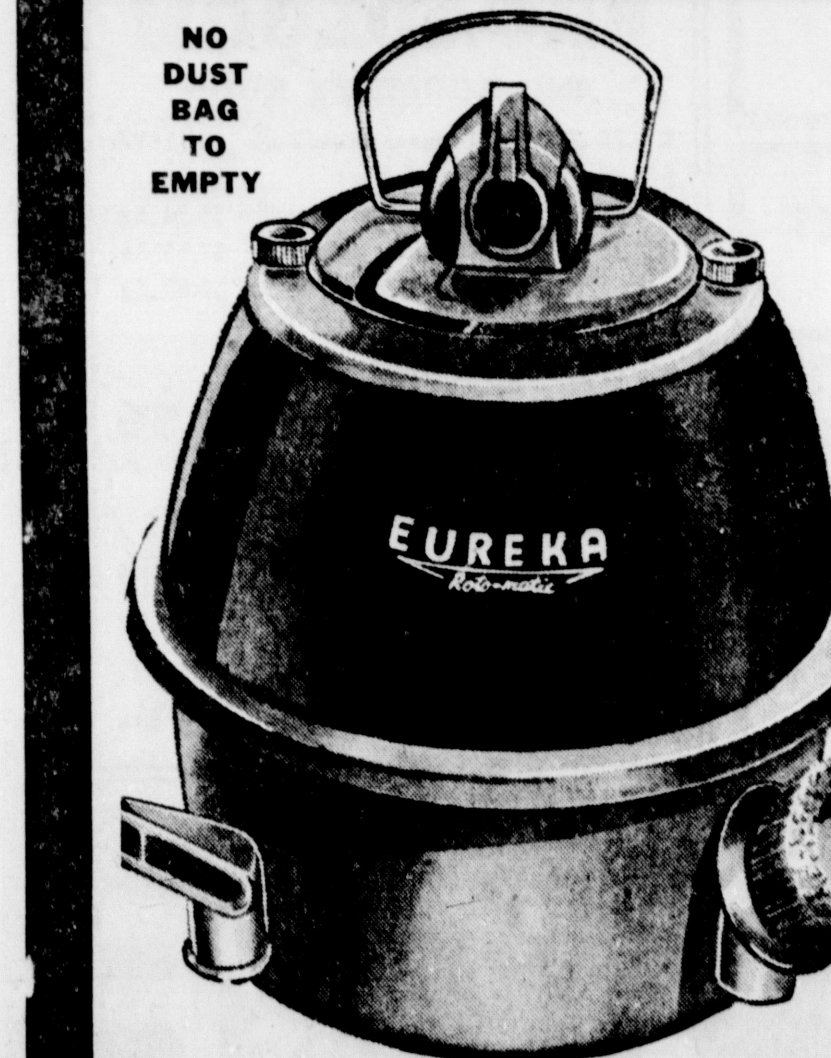

IT ALSO said a telegram was sent to Una on June 22, 1954, notifying her Schmidt was reported to be a Red prisoner.

The Air Force said it had a Western Union receipt showing the telegram was signed for but did not know who signed it.

The woman has steadfastly refused to say when and where she was married to Fine.

Howell, however, said previously Una brought Fine to meet him in Idaho last February and introduced him as her husband, saying only they were wed "in Mexico."

Vacationing

With
Mercury ReadersBy THE VACA-TION EDITOR
Of The Mercury Staff

Hurricane Connie is blowing up quite a storm along the Atlantic coast and her windy anger will probably keep many of the weekend travelers off the highways.

Mary and Ernie Eagle, 257 Green street, Royersford, have already experienced one severe storm, while they vacationed at North East, Maryland.

The couple, however, didn't mind the torrents of rain, because it brought cooling relief from the hot sticky weather.

They write, "We are enjoying a ten-day vacation here at our camp meeting of the Church of Nazarene. After so many days of heat, at last we had some rain and it was quite a storm. The day after the rain it became much cooler."

Church of Nazarene Camp

Chest X-Rays Set
For Aug. 22-27

Free chest X-rays to anyone in the Pottstown area 15 years of age or over will be available the week of Aug. 22-27, not next week as was originally reported.

The mobile unit will make stops at 10 locations in the borough during its tour here.

Persons desiring the X-rays will not be required to undress. They should not wear any bone or metal buttons over the chest area, however.

A report of the X-ray will be mailed to the homes of those who have them taken. All reports will be kept confidential.

A MEETING has been called for tonight in borough hall of all canvassers who will distribute the schedule for the X-ray survey here to residents of the Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Eighth and Tenth wards.

The canvassing corps will be composed of committeemen and committeewomen of local Republican and Democratic parties.

Tonight's meeting will begin at 8 p. m.

The X-ray unit is being brought here through the co-operation of the State Department of Health's Bureau of Tuberculosis Control, Montgomery County Medical Society and Montgomery County Tuberculosis and Public Health Society.

Local agencies aiding are Pottstown Board of Health, Family Service of Pottstown and Visiting Nurse organization of Pottstown.

THE SCHEDULE for the mobile unit's stops is:

Monday, Aug. 22, 1:30 to 4:30 p. m., at Beech and Penn streets; 6 to 9 p. m., at Franklin and Chestnut streets.

Tuesday, Aug. 23, 1:30 to 4:30 p. m., at South and Charlotte streets; 6 to 9 p. m., at South and Franklin streets.

Wednesday, Aug. 24, 1:30 to 4:30 p. m., at Grace street and Feist avenue; 6 to 9 p. m., at Charlotte and Prospect streets.

Thursday, Aug. 25, 1:30 to 4:30 p. m., at Mineral and Hale streets; 6 to 9 p. m., at Charlotte and Prospect streets.

Friday, Aug. 26, 1:30 to 4:30 p. m. and 6 to 9 p. m., at High and Penn streets.

Saturday, Aug. 27, 9 a. m. to noon, at Lincoln and Warren streets, and 1:30 to 4:30 p. m., at Charlotte and Nightingale streets.

the entrance to the Church of Nazarene camp. A large sign greets the campers and passers-by. The tiny white cabins are located under the branches of tall shady trees.

THE COOL mountain breezes and lazy activities combine at Lake Wallenpaupack, Pocono mountains, to offer Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Rozsas Sr., 108 Warren street, a pleasant vacation time.

"It sure is beautiful scenery up here," said the couple. "The lake is as pretty as a picture and there are no more sticky hot nights up here."

Moonlight on Wallenpaupack

Their postcard shows the lake illuminated by golden moonbeams. Soft ripples in the water are sent racing to the shore by the vacationers who prefer to do their canoeing at night.

If you plan to brave the storm this weekend and take your family on a short trip, don't forget to keep in touch with your friends and neighbors at home.

Buy a black and white postcard and write a greeting on the back of the card. You can tell of some interesting experience or incident. Write your full name and home address on the bottom of the card and mail it to the vacation editor, Pottstown Mercury.

He will be glad to share all your traveling fun and pleasure with those at home through the Mercury!

Entries Accepted
For Jalopy Derby

Entries are now being received in the Skip-Perk Junior Chamber of Commerce jalopy derby.

The Derby, open to all 11 to 15-year-old boys in the Skip-Pack-Perkiomen area, will be staged on Oct. 1.

Boys living in areas where no derbies are being sponsored also will have an opportunity to enter.

The Jaycees will try to get sponsors to give funds to each boy building a racer. The boy then will be required to paint on his car the name of his sponsor.

Boys are asked to call Fred Crist, at Collegeville 6075 or 4361 or Dan Hite at Schwenksville 2287 for information regarding the derby. Entry blanks, rules, specifications and sketches showing general procedure to follow will be available.

Elderly but Industrious Couple Celebrate 50th Anniversary

After being married 50 years, some couples may be looking back "to the good old days" when they were more agile and able to enjoy lengthy trips, parties and other social activities—But Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Haney, 71 West Third avenue, Trappe, won't be placed on Friday will mark 50 years since the couple first exchanged vows in a Reformed church parsonage in Green Lane. The Rev. Rausch officiated at the ceremony.

Today, after 30 years of employment at the same place, Mr. Haney still bakes for the Collegeville bakery and Mrs. Haney sews at the Collegeville Flag and Manufacturing company.

Their son-in-law, J. H. Crist reports, "They are very active and are enjoying good health at this time."

Last year and in 1952 they motored to Florida, alone in their 1948 sedan to visit their two daughters, Mrs. John Barry of Orelano, Fla., and Mrs. Edgar Orwig, of Largo, Fla.

Mrs. Barry now lives in Maryland.

Mr. and Mrs. Haney are looking forward to another trip to Florida in the early part of September. They will again travel alone, using the same means of transportation.

Other children of the Haney's are: Mrs. J. H. Crist, 46 West Third avenue, Trappe; David Haney, who resides with his parents and Mrs. Harold Williams of Concord, Calif.

The Haney's also have 13 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Haney were honored at "Open House" in their home the past Sunday. Approximately 50 persons attended the affair arranged by their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Haney were presented with a gilded floor lamp by their children. A wrought iron weather vane adorned with ten silver dollars which were wrapped in gold foil decorated the table from which a buffet luncheon was served.

This was also a gift from the children. A gold tree trimmed with greeting cards was the table centerpiece.

Adding color to the table decorations was a four tier cake decorated in white and gold and inscribed with "50th Anniversary."

Members of the immediate family present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Crist and son, John; Mrs. Donald Goff, Mrs. Ernest Hamer, David Haney, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Williams Jr. of Asbury, N. J. and Mrs. Harold Williams and children, Phyllis and Charles of Concord, Cal.

Mrs. Williams and her two children have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Haney for five weeks. They left Monday for the trip home.

Mr. and Mrs. Haney have resided in Trappe since 1908 and for the past 43 years in their present home.

For a short time after their marriage they lived with Mr. Haney's parents in Sumneytown. He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Haney. Mrs. Haney is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Schwager, Sumneytown.

Mr. Haney is fond of flowers and shrubbery and added Mr. Crist, "his yard is full of them." Mrs. Haney reportedly is an expert seamstress and also is quite handy with a crochet needle.

Proudly Mr. Crist ended, "I've known them for 33 years and they are wonderful people."

Confusion Reigns in Party Preparations For Couple Observing 39th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Stropko, Pottstown RD 3, have been married for 39 years.

Each year of their marriage they observed their anniversary, Aug. 7, with a small celebration.

But never have they celebrated their anniversary, they declare, with quite so much delightful confusion as prevailed at their party Sunday.

The day began as all Sundays, with coffee and a light breakfast before church services.

After services they were invited to share a brunch with Mr. and Mrs. John Hornyak in North Coventry.

Mrs. Hornyak and Mrs. Stropko have been friends for years, so the visit was naturally extended to include dinner at the Hornyak home.

This brunch-through-dinner visit had been pre-arranged by the Stropko children in order that their parents be out of the house while party decorating—a three hour task—was underway.

At the Hornyak house the visit continued, and when small talk ran out, the two families sat down to dinner. Just as they were completing the soup course the telephone rang.

One of the Stropko children was on the line, inviting her parents to take a ride. Mrs. Stropko declined the invitation (and both Hornyaks had, they said, a distinct sinking feeling, because there "wasn't any dinner after the soup course.")

The invitation was repeated, again declined. Finally, on the third attempt, Mrs. Stropko accepted the invitation, and the couple went home.

Once at their home, they were greeted with cries of "Surprise!" mingled with more than a few questions of "What kept you?"

The entire family, which had supposedly scattered to Allentown, Willow Grove, Reading and Wisconsin for the day, was gathered in the living room.

They were led downstairs, where the dinner they had waited so patiently to enjoy had been prepared and was waiting only their presence to be served.

Banners proclaiming "39th anniversary" hung around the room, and the heavily-laden table was centered with a three-tier cake.

Guests, all responsible for the anniversary, included: Mr. and Mrs. Hornyak and their granddaughters, Rita; Mr. and Mrs. George Stropko (who were supposed to be on vacation in Wisconsin); Mr. and Mrs. John Hutman and daughter, Sandra Lee (who were supposed to be in Willow Grove).

And, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pachik and children, Monica, Francis and Gregory (who were supposed to be in Reading for the day); Andrew Goffus, (who was supposed to come to the party); and Mr. and Mrs. James Bartok and children, Linda Ann and Rickie (who were supposed to be in Allentown).

Teeners 'Blew Up a Storm' Of Their Own, Last Night

Storm warnings are out all along the coast and through Pennsylvania—but Connie or no Connie, area teen-agers turned out in force for their weekly dance at Memorial park.

It was almost sweater weather, and a brief shower occurred early in the evening, but this did not keep more than 400 local boys and girls from their weekly fling at the park pavilion.

To the music of Arlen Saylor and his orchestra the youngsters made their own storm as they rocked and rolled, jumped and did the mambo from 8 to 11 p. m.

Glittering Ankles Advised For 'Luxurious Look'

With the return of luxurious fabrics, velvet, satin, lace, brocades and laces to the fashion scene, designers have suggested more glitter for stockings.

Slender supple, velvet cocktail and evening dresses are forecast as high style in more formal clothes. Jewels at the ankles would give a sparkling touch to the soft but severe costumes, they say. Jeweled gloves are also suggested.

Gold threads woven into the insteps of hosiery would add an alluring note to gowns of metallic fabrics, they believe.

Iridescent nylons in pastel or jewel tones are thought perfect accompaniment for satin gowns in the same colors.

OTHER HOME owners interviewed, however, said their bills were about the same or less than before.

Edward Hartline, 607 North Evans street, said his bill from May 2 to July 22 was "less" than he had been paying. And his meter was put in during May.

Mrs. Bruce C. Weber, 931 North Hills boulevard, also said her bill was a bit lower. Her payment was from June 1 to July 22.

"It's a few pennies less," said Mrs. Rowland Herman, 1204 North Franklin street. "We haven't cut down on water, either. We kept using it as we always had."

MRS. CELAN SCHAEFFER, 1106 North Franklin street, also said her family's bill was less.

"Of course our bill was for two months and 15 days, a bit short of the full three months, but I wouldn't call it excessive," she said.

Thomas said he had received a few complaints about high bills since the notices had been sent out.

"But on the whole, I don't think you can call them higher," he said. "I can show you a lot of cases where people are having their water bill cut in half. It depends on how much water you use, that's all."

MRS. LLEWELLYN Drumheiler, 641 North Evans street, said her bill for 81 days had been only $2.90. She added that there were only three people in the family and that they didn't sprinkle the lawn. Residents have the month of August in which to pay their bills. The billing periods under the old flat rate run from March, June, September and December.

Paying no attention to the standings, St. Peter's Lutheran spoiled First Baptist's bid to win the regular season crown of the Sunday School league last night.

St. Peter's scored a 3-2 victory, dropping the Baptist into a tie with Trinity Reformed for first place in the final standings.

League director Chuck Brown announced last night that First Baptist and Trinity will hold a playoff for the title Monday night.

Last night's win was only the second of the season for St. Peter's. It was a come-from-behind triumph, as Dick Levensgood belted his third single to drive in the winning run in the top of the sixth and final inning.

With one out in the sixth, Dick Bechtel was safe on Ken Korch's throwing error which advanced the runner to second. Levensgood then poked out his third straight hit to plate Bechtel with the run that ruined the Baptists.

THE LOSERS scored first in the second inning. Wilson Bedell and Korch hit singles. Bill Kerr then belted a two-run single to right.

St. Peter's tied the count in the fourth, with two down. Bechtel doubled and Levensgood drove him in with a single to right. The ball slipped past Wes Nichols and Levensgood raced around to score the second run.

Bill Kerr, looking for his seventh SSL victory, pitched the first five innings. The winning run was scored off Bobby Weiser who was charged with his first loss in three decisions.

Dale Neiman went the distance to gain his first win after suffering four straight losses.

All-Stars Gunning For Point Power At Sanatoga Oval

The point leadership of the All Stars Stock Car Racing club could be on the line Saturday night in a seven-event program on the fifth-mile blacktop track at Sanatoga speedway.

Brisk competition at the track this season has produced 13 different feature winners in 16 races. At the same time it has kept the ASCRC's season point championship race at its closest in many years.

At this stage Reds Leshner, Reading, holds a slender lead over the pack although he has been unable to come through with a main event victory. The Reading redhead has been a consistent finisher among the top half dozen this season, piling up his points steadily.

Recent performances by other ASCRC chauffeurs, however, have jeopardized Leshner's grip on the lead. Among those threatening to overhaul the veteran driver in the final two months of the season are Harry Moore, Pottstown; Rocky Ewing, Royersford; Charley Kelly, Pottstown; Warren Mutter, Boyertown, and Norman Kidd, Bridgeport.

EWING BOOSTED his stock considerably last week when he won the 30-lap feature at the track, joining a no longer exclusive club.

One of the biggest disappointments of the season has been the failure of Don Allison, Norristown, to make a genuine run for the title he won last season. Plagued with mechanical troubles, the lean driver of the all-white No. 7 car has never been a threat.

Leaders and also-rans will roll through three heat races, two semifinals, a consolation and the 30-lap feature race Saturday night, looking for points and the lion's share of a sizeable purse.

This week's feature will be the Bridgeport Sweepstakes, honoring Kidd, whose frequent spurts of brilliance have been among the highlights of the season.

Kozlowski Hurls 2-Hit Shutout

Falcons Even CSL Series By Beating Diamond Glass

Tony Kozlowski kept the pressure on himself last night by giving up seven walks, but he allowed only two hits and St. John's Falcons stopped Diamond Glass, 2-0, to even their semi-final series in the City Softball playoffs at one game each.

It was a different story than Monday night's game when the two clubs totaled 23 runs and the Glassers belted big Tony out in two innings.

Jack Wadsworth's double and Joe Wein's single were the only hits off Kozlowski. Ed Koneski hurled another steady game for Diamond Glass, giving up only six hits, but four of them were doubles.

St. John's won the game in the fourth inning. Monk Weber slammed a double and moved to third when Dave Suchoza drilled a single off third baseman Bob Custer's glove.

WALLY STROCKI grounded out and Weber raced in with his team's first run.

Irey Victor in 1-0 Win

Linfield Blanks Stars

Linfield Lions outstanding pitching staff proved too much for the Junior league All-Stars last night as Barry Irey and Jackie Haines pitched a 1-0 shutout.

The All-Stars, who previously had defeated the Shamrocks when Haines and Irey were pitching for them, collected only four hits off the pair of right-handed swiftness.

The Lions put together three singles in the first inning to push across the only run of the game.

With two down, Roger Bearde, Rich Bauer and Haines hit consecutive singles. Haines' drive to center sent Bearde scampering home with the run.

From that point on it was a pitcher's battle between the two Lions and a trio of All-Star hurlers.

Joe Koons, who was the winner in the first All-Star game, opened last night and suffered the loss. He was followed to the mound by Kenilworth's Jim Huv and York Street Hotel's Pete Hoover.

THE ONLY All-Star players to collect hits were John Artim and Jan Fritz, both Shamrock players. Corky Wentzel of Stove Lions, and Lee Latshaw of York Street.

In addition to the hits in the first inning, the other Linfield safeties were collected by Irey.

RING GIANT—Believed to be the tallest boxer in the world, Edward Potgieter, South African heavyweight who measures seven feet, two inches, and weighs 308 pounds, takes in the sights of London. The French Creek Valley-league playoffs will be decided tonight when Knauertown plays at Kimberton, 6:15 o'clock.

Knauertown evened the best-of-five series Tuesday night with a 5-2 victory over Kimberton, giving each club a pair of wins.

The Knauertown team led early in the first inning. But Kimberton went ahead in the second frame as Pat Bracelin doubled and Lou Alexander doubled and Alexander then tripled Alexander homer and Segner drove in another run with a single.

Knauertown tied the count in the third when Fisher doubled and scored on an error. In the fifth the winners served up the game when Ken Painter, Fisher and Mel Steltz hit singles, the last one driving in two runs.

M-B Softball Loop

Eagle AA trimmed Seisholtzville, 9-4, last night in the second semifinal game to gain a shot at the winner of tomorrow's game between Palm and Landis Store, for a five-game series in the finals.

The Eagle's bats were heavy as Herb Hallman and Bob Bieler each powered home runs, Hallman's in the second with no one on and Bieler's in the fifth with two mates aboard.

Harold Benner was the winning pitcher and Ollie Miller took the loss.

In the other game, at Pennsburg, Landis Store handed Palm an 11-5 setback in their second semi-final game.

Tom Herb blasted a homer in the Store's big fourth inning with one on. The other extra base hit off losing pitcher Kermit Kemp was a double, in the same inning.

Allen Carl was the big man for Palm as he hit a homer and a triple. Four of the Pontiacs six hits were for extra bases.

Knee-Hi Skipper Sketches

(This is the sixth in a series of eight articles about the managers and coaches of the Knee-Hi league. These are the men who spend their evenings developing Pottstown's young baseball talent.)

Each baseball man has his own philosophy about how the game should be played.

"I believe in taking chances," Bill Scherfel, manager of Kenilworth in the Knee-Hi league admits. "Sometimes they catch me off base but that's the way I learned to play the game."

Scherfel and his coach Bill Barth have been directing the Kenilworth team for the past two seasons. Before he took over as manager, Scherfel formed a "B" team and ran it for a year.

The "B" teams are now becoming quite popular around the league because it gives more boys a chance to play, especially the younger ones who are usually relegated to the bench during the league games.

Scherfel learned his "take-a-chance" coaching methods while in the Army.

"I was in the same outfit as Hughy Mulcahy, the ex-Phillies pitcher. He was the first major league player to get drafted back in 1940," Scherfel recalls.

"HE TOLD ME to forget the book and to improvise whenever I could. It's risky but it makes for interesting baseball."

Scherfel's baseball experience dates further back to 1936 when he first started pitching at Lebanon Valley college. He hurled four years in college and had an 8-4 record.

After his graduation he had a tryout under Jimmy DeShong, then the manager of the Harrisburg Senators in the Inter-State league.

His trial period lasted several weeks but he was too small to make the grade. Before going in the Army he pitched for Knauertown in the City Suburban league and with St. James in the Sunday school league.

This Summer has been a busy one for Bill. In addition to managing his Knee-Hi team, he has been studying for his bar exam which he took last week and he is also campaigning for justice of the peace in North Coventry township.

His son, Bill, 3d, is on the "B" team and looks like a prospect for the varsity next year.

When Scherfel took over as the major leagues open Spring training.

Perk Loop Finals
Won by Schwenks

Schwenksville copped the deciding game in the Perkiomen Church softball league playoffs, by defeating New Goshenhoppen, 5-4, in a thriller down to the final out last night.

Harvey Long's home run in the fifth inning brought in the game's winning run. He drove home Paul Musselman, who had previously singled.

New Goshenhoppen brewed a storm in the last inning when they scored a run on Dennis Roth's single, driving home Frank Bieler who was safe on an error by the shortstop.

manager two Summers ago, Bill Barth stepped in as coach. They have worked together ever since.

Barth is a former softball catcher. He played with Pontiac, an independent team in the early 40s, and also with Die Shop in the Doehler league.

HE FIRST BECAME interested in Knee-Hi ball through his son, Peter, who has been on the Kenilworth team for three years. At first he just transported boys in his car but finally decided he would like to serve as coach.

But in young Pete's place Bill Scherfel and Bill Barth will continue to develop new talent and Kenilworth will continue to be proud of its coaches.

Stadium Fans Boo Mantle Without Reason

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP)—Sam Snead in his professional hillbilly role has a stock yarn about the young blades back home who used to relieve the monotony by going down to the barbershop and "watching a few haircuts."

Which is neither here nor there except for the fact that a lot of baseball fans hereabouts seem to get together on dull evenings and say in effect: "Let's go out to the Stadium and boo Mickey Mantle."

There's no real reason for it. The Oklahoma Kid just gets out effort. He there and plays to the best of his ability, which is better than fair, tumble if he was and we never have seen him do just another Joe anything that would arouse the Doakes.

We have in YET HE GETS it from all sides, mind a particular game a few days

He gets it when his name is announced in the starting lineup. He gets it when he comes up to the plate. He gets it when he pops out, or strikes out, or hits a home run, or catches a fly ball.

It's unfair, but at the same time it is a tribute to the stocky man who can do everything so well and with such aplomb.

Maybe the fact a lot of anti-Yankee fans go the Stadium has something to do with it, as they see in him a threat to the opposing team. The Stadium, like the Empire State building or Rockefeller Center, is a "must" for out-of-towners taking in the sights, and with only an academic interest in the Yankee ball club they pull for the underdog, which always is the visiting team.

Anyway, here is Mantle, hit-ago which might be called a typical ting more than 300, leading the game as far as the reaction of league in home runs, a fine fielder the fans to Mantle was concerned, with an exceptional arm, and a He was booed when he came to blur on the bases, being treated the plate in the first inning and as if he had just caught robbing hit a home run. He was booed the poor box.

... MAYBE THE YANKES themselves are partially responsible for the situation. Before the kid ever saw a big league park he was publicized as the greatest discovery since the electric light; a sort of combination Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker and several others.

Nobody could live up to his billing, and when he got off to an unimpressive start, then was stymied by injuries and ailments, the fans felt let down, and they haven't recovered from it.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

AN OLD GREEK LEGEND has it that the Sun once heard some mere humans exclaiming about some very dark place they had discovered. The Sun hastened to the exact spot they had described, and searched high and low, but couldn't even find the suspicion of a shadow.

The moral, of course, is that if you carry your own sunshine with you, there will be fewer dark places in your life.

Colonel Duffy is itching to open a new employment agency called "Satan, Incorporated." He has a slogan all ready to plaster across his letterheads: "Satan finds work for idle hands."

Professor Bergen Evans, in a disillusioned moment, remarked, "Education seems to be the only commodity where the customer tries to get as little as he can for his money."

Golf's Money-Hungry Pros to Shoot For $50,000 Prize in 'World'

CHICAGO, Aug. 10 (AP)—Golf's money-hungry pros had stars in their eyes today as they brought their games up to a peak for the start of their biggest treasure hunt—the "World" tourney at Tam O'Shanter.

A field of 105, after warming up in the All-American meet last week and sharpening up in practices the last two days, will start the first leg of a 72-hole stampede tomorrow for this winning bonanza:

Fifth thousand dollars in cash, a contract for 55 exhibition dates at $1000 each and all expenses, and an option of 50 more.

Second money is $10,000, third $5000, fourth $3000—and the payoff scales down to $100 through 72nd place.

Several of the better-known pros who had complained of various ailments and picked up in the All-American last week, were getting well quick.

The only questionable pro starter was Jack Burke, who shared second place behind champion Bob Toski last year with Earl Stewart. Burke has been nursing a swollen right hand and shots of some miracle drugs have left his arm painfully sore.

RAINS HAVE FRESHENED up the exacting 6900-yard course, and with good weather forecast, par 72 appeared in for a beating. However, the rough has been allowed to grow and there is the usual relocating of pins on the tricky greens.

All-American and National PGA champion Doug Ford, as well as most other leading pros, believe a 72-hole total of 274—which would match Toski's take-all score last year—will be needed to win. This would be 14 under par but far short of the record 269 set by Byron Nelson in 1945.

Nelson was among the first to start a spectacular scoring trend that has made many of the Tam O'Shanter tournaments a battle right down to the 72nd hole.

Stocks and Midgits Head Hatfield Slate

HATFIELD, Aug. 10—AAA and ARDC midgite racing cars, manned by some of the best known drivers in the game, return to Hatfield Speedway, near Lansdale, Saturday night to kick off an attractive weekend doubleheader at the half-mile, banked asphalt track.

The midgits will begin a six-event performance at 8:30 o'clock and will wind up with a 20-lap feature event. The next night at the same time sportsman stock cars of the All Stars club will roll through a seven-event card that is expected to attract upwards of 100 cars.

Saturday's races will mark the fifth time the AAA-ARDC caravan has cut loose on Hatfield's handsome track. Under the new merger, the two clubs held their first competitive event at the track in April when Andy Furci, Brooklyn, whipped in under the checkered flag in the 20-lap main event. George Fonder, Lansdale, uncorked popular hometown victories in each of the next two features, but Gig Stephens, North Reading, Mass., broke his string nearly six weeks ago.

BLAST IN OHIO TOWN KILLS 16, FEAR MORE DEAD

ASHTABULA, Ohio, Aug. 10 (P)—An explosion and fire in the nearby village of Andover killed at least 16 persons tonight and injured more than 15. State highway patrolmen reported. They feared there might be nine or ten more dead.

Six buildings were destroyed in the blast in a fire which burned fiercely for hours afterward. It was four hours before the blaze was put out. Most of the victims were burned beyond recognition.

At the scene, Dr. H. K. Lynne, deputy Ashtabula county coroner, said:

"It may take days to identify all of the bodies taken to a temporary morgue set up three blocks from the burned buildings."

Jim Strickler, of a radio station in Meadville, Pa., said firemen at midnight fixed a tentative death toll of 25, including some missing.

"UNDOUBTEDLY, there are more bodies in the debris," Strickler said. "All I saw were badly charred and practically unidentifiable."

The newsmen said the bodies in the building hit by the explosion fell into the basement and "they have trucks with winches pulling them out."

The blast occurred shortly before 7 p. m. in a two-story frame building housing a dairy store and restaurant. There was a severe electrical storm at the time. A number of persons had crowded into the restaurant to escape the storm.

Associated Press photographer Julian Wilson said a fireman told him the explosion was caused by gas which accumulated in the blasted building.

GRIMY FIREMEN and volunteer workers from nearby communities moved into the little village of 1200 located 20 miles southeast of here near the Pennsylvania border to help.

The electrical storm had knocked out power lines and telephone communications, and the men worked by searchlights powered from electric generators. The telephone company said there would be no phone service before tomorrow. Traffic was snarled for miles around.

At midnight none of the dead had been identified. One dead woman was at Brown Memorial hospital in Conneaut and the other victims were at an Andover funeral home.

"The end of the restaurant just seemed to fly right out," said Mrs. Amanda Smock, who was with her niece.

ANOTHER WOMAN who was about a 5-minute walk away from the blasted building, said:

"The earth jarred under our feet. Windows broke in every direction." Injured were taken to hospitals here and in Conneaut and Youngstown.

Three of the injured at General hospital here were on the danger list: Myron French, 27, of Andover; Runby Shellito, 17, of Andover; and James Surman, 29, of Cleveland. There were four less seriously injured there, including Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Holmes of Route 1, Jamestown, Pa.

Southside hospital in Youngstown treated Nancy Mock, 19, for cuts and held her for X-rays.

Brown hospital in Conneaut admitted five injured persons, identifying them as Goldie Lapinsky, 30, Joseph Lapinsky, Eugene Lapinsky, Victor Gurto and a Mr. Kennedy.

Steffy Case Goes To Grand Jury

The two-week-old case of the Pottstown motorist charged with driving a truck during suspension of his operator's license yesterday was sent to Berks county grand jury for the September term of court.

Douglas Township Justice of the Peace Charles E. Templin last night said he had received photostatic evidence from State police, who charged Paul D. Steffy, 317 West Chestnut street, with operating a truck during suspension.

Police claim Steffy applied for a second operator's license after he was arrested for speeding.

The defendant claims he applied for the license because he lost his old license.

Steffy is represented by Reading Attorney Samuel R. Liever.

GOOD —

amount of work Good has been doing on the elementary school physical education program.

(One of his duties as director is to plan and supervise a program of intramural activities for the boys and girls of elementary, junior and senior high schools.)

THE SOURCE said that Fosnacht called Good in for a chat recently concerning the elementary program. Good was reported "not too happy" about the chat.

Ironically, the post he now wants "relief" from was created indirectly by himself.

In Jan. 1953, he hinted that the jobs of athletic director, baseball coach and basketball coach—all of which he held—were too much for one man. They left him too little time for his family, he said.

In March, he suggested to the Council that he retain the job of athletic director but drop the coaching jobs.

THE COUNCIL decided it would be a good idea to study the whole physical education program in the light of Good's recommendations.

It came up with the plan for a Director of Athletics and Physical Education—a post separate from coaching jobs.

Good was the only applicant for the job. He was appointed to the post.

THE JOB carried these duties with it: (1) handle all PIAA (Pennsylvania Inter-Scholastic Athletic Association) matters for the school, attending all meetings, etc.

(2) Schedule all athletic games, sign officials, handle the games.

(3) Handle athletic finances: prepare a budget for each year; pay bills.

(4) Schedule the use of all school playing fields.

(5) Write reports recommending improvements to the school board.

(6) Provide school principals with lists of pupils in sports each week before games so that eligibility can be checked.

(7) Plan and supervise a program of intramural sports for all pupils, elementary schools included.

(8) Outline to elementary teachers physical activities for pupils at recess periods and supervise the preparation of playgrounds for the pupils.

(9) Integrate the health and physical education program from grade four through 12, serving as co-chairman of the Curriculum Co-ordinating committee on health and physical education.

As a teacher, he works a half day, devoting the rest of his time to the physical education duties. His teacher's salary is $5000 a year.

Neither Good nor Fosnacht could be contacted last night. Mrs. Good said that her husband was in Philadelphia to meet their daughter, Barbara, who was returning from a Washington, D. C. trip.

Mrs. Fosnacht said that her husband was also in Philadelphia on business.

Local Builders Get Big Contract

Three Pottstown area contractors will construct a 22-acre shopping center at the outskirts of Reading, one of the builders announced yesterday.

Charles W. Rhoads, 256 King street, said the first building will be a $175,000 store for the A and P company.

Rhoads said that he, his son Charles Jr., and Ralph F. Schlichter, a fuel oil man from Douglassville, have received a charter from Harrisburg incorporating them as the RS City Business center.

Rhoads said he expects to erect 14 buildings at the center with parking facilities for 1000 cars. The center will be located at Kutztown road and Hiesters lane in the north of Reading.

the tree," said Richard E. Blair, Pottstown deputy game protector, who gave the carcass to Berks Deputy Protector Joseph Leindecker, Reading.

Leindecker hauled the dead deer to the Berks county home.

BLAIR EXPLAINED the deer's death:

"It obviously was struck by a car, and had been resting for an undetermined time in the woods, just east of the new Schuylkill river bridge in Douglass township and between the river and Route 422."

"When the boy came along the deer became frightened. It might have been dead as it crashed against the tree because its internal injuries were critical."

"There wasn't a mark on the deer's head. A deer won't commit suicide."

putting out the flames. The Good Will ambulance was called and Johnson was rushed to the hospital.

This was the first accident that Johnson, a father of two small children, had ever had at the clay products company. Two years ago he broke a leg, but in an off-the-job accident.
